

This could be related to little RAM available on your phone. If there is not much memory available, the application will not start. Please ensure no other applications are running on your phone when you run Mobile Trading System. If the problem persists, unfortunately your phone is not capable of running software.